- ✓ Practitioners wanting to enhance their clinical skills in treating fertility patients
- ✓ Practitioners who want insights into making their fertility practice more profitable, whilst getting better outcomes for their patients

IICMC 2018 Supercharge Your Fertility Practice is a conference designed just for you, a practitioner working with fertility patients. Our vision is to forge strong relationships and professional collaboration between all fertility practitioners in the fields of conventional and natural medicine and allied health.

IICMC 2018 was inspired by Melbourne practitioners Clare Pyers and Kirsten Wolfe, who decided to join forces and create a conference that inspires unity, support, collaboration and sharing knowledge in our profession. Kirsten and Clare are experienced practitioners in full time practice, and share a passion for teaching and mentoring other practitioners. IICMC 2018 sees Kirsten and Clare invite other practitioners from around the world to share their clinical expertise with you.

We firmly believe in integrative care for our patients. IICMC 2018 will explore the clinical approach of health professionals in both conventional and natural medicine, together we can enhance patient outcomes.
